Fire & Smoke Damage

You've just been through one of the scariest experiences of your life. Now it's time to rebuild. You need an expert team who knows exactly what to do and how to do it.

The First Responders have left and now it's time to get your life back in order. It's a complicated process that requires specific expertise in fire/smoke repair, restoration and construction. Mammoth brings expertise across the board.

We've helped hundreds of home and business owners recover from the damage caused by fire and smoke. And we provide all the services you need under one roof – repair, restoration and construction. Most importantly, we work closely with your insurance company to be sure everything is done just right.

“ I didn't believe my agent when he said Mammoth would be here in less than two hours. I can't find words to explain how well things really went. The house came out better than we ever could have hoped for. The finished product is just wonderful.
